

MidCentral DHB

Well communities

These are unprecedented times as we are all being asked to stay at home and stop interactions with others outside of our household “bubble”. Please be assured that health services are still operating (although some things are being done differently) and for any medical emergencies, please still call 111.

Take care of yourself as we deal with Covid-19

Staying physically active is important

While in self-isolation you may go for a walk and enjoy nature in your local neighbourhood. Walking is a great way to maintain your general fitness. Take a cell phone or tell someone in your bubble when you are due back. Avoid other people when out walking and keep a 2-metre distance from people at all times.

If you are staying at home, one great way to get some exercise is doing ‘sit to stands’. When watching TV, every ad break try to stand up from your chair and sit back down slowly. Repeat five times. If you are able to, try not to use your hands to push off with. If you would like a list of other seated and standing exercises that are safe for older people to do at home then please email:

Planning4health@midcentraldhb.govt.nz.

Staying mentally healthy

Your emotional and mental wellbeing is important. It is normal to feel stressed or lonely when self-isolating, but there are some things you can do to feel better.

Reach out to your usual support people over the phone or online – family and whānau and friends. Sharing how we feel and offering support to others is important.

We also recommend sticking to a routine, such as having regular mealtimes, bedtimes and exercising.

The Mental Health Foundation's new ‘Getting Through Together’ campaign also has tips, ideas and resources to help us all through this tricky time. You can see it here: <https://www.allright.org.nz/>

If you feel you are not coping, it is important to talk with a health professional. For support with grief, anxiety, distress or mental wellbeing, you can call or text 1737 – free, anytime, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week – to talk with a trained counsellor.

Be kind and take care.

Welfare Help

Manawatū residents with urgent health or wellbeing needs during lockdown can receive help through Manawatū District Council.

A dedicated regional welfare helpline has been set up to assist people who need help to access household goods and services such as food, water, clothing and bedding.

The Freephone number, 0800 725 678, will be available from 7am until 7pm, seven days a week, and is a service for people not able to make arrangements through their own support networks.

People are encouraged to review the COVID-19.govt.nz website's help and advice pages to find out what welfare, financial and health services are available first. If you are still unable to find answers to your questions, or if you need local welfare assistance, call the 0800 number.

Health Services for Manawatū District Residents

Testing for Covid-19

A COVID-19 testing site is operating in Feilding. If you are feeling unwell, there are two ways to be referred to a testing site:

- Call the dedicated COVID-19 Healthline number on 0800 358 5453; or
- Contact Feilding Health Care by phone. A nurse or a GP will organise a test for you if it is needed.

In addition to the Feilding site, there are four other designated testing sites across the MidCentral District. Depending on where you live, you may be asked to go to another site for testing.

Feilding Health Care

Our General Practice staff are crucial to our national response to COVID-19 and are committed to keeping you well. Feilding Health Care will continue to operate as an essential service. Many services will continue through the COVID-19 lockdown, including:

- GP and Nurse phone consultations
- GP video consultations
- Prescriptions
- Some immunisations and procedures
- Some face to face consultations, as determined by a Nurse or GP.

Face-to-face consultations

Before you have a face to face consultation, you will speak to a Nurse or a Doctor on the phone. Please listen to their instructions about what to do. You may be greeted at the door and asked questions before coming into the practice – or you may be asked to go to a different entrance rather than the one you usually go to.

Feilding Health Care will have some charges for phone, video and email consultation services. They will share this information with you – however if you are unsure, please ask.

Community Pharmacy Services

Our Community Pharmacy teams are also committed to keeping you well. Community Pharmacies will continue to work as essential services during the COVID-19 lock down.

Community Pharmacies will be available for essential services only. This includes providing prescriptions, other medicines and advice. Pharmacies will not be available for casual shopping.

Going to your pharmacy in person

From now on, Community Pharmacies will have a limited entry policy. When arriving at a pharmacy, people will be asked basic health questions before entering the premises. If unwell, you will be asked to wait in your car or outside.

Prescriptions from Smiths, Central or Feilding Health Pharmacy will be delivered to you if you live in the Feilding township. Please do not go to the pharmacy to collect your prescription, unless your prescription is urgent.

Delivery options for rural areas

There are other delivery options available for rural addresses. Please ask the pharmacy about their delivery options.

Te Ara Rau Primary Mental Health Service

In response to the COVID-19 situation, THINK Hauora Te Ara Rau (Primary Mental Health Service) are not currently seeing people face to face. All Mātanga Whai Ora/staff are conducting appointments either via phone or video.

Referrals to THINK Hauora Te Ara Rau must be through your GP and are limited.

People wanting mental health support are encouraged to call or text 1737.

If after using any of these resources a referral is still required, it is important to understand that there may be longer than usual waiting times for a phone or video contact.

MidCentral DHB Hospital Services

Some changes to hospital services have been put in place because of COVID-19. Many appointments are now being done via phone or video consult (where appropriate) to minimise the need for people to travel to the hospital and some non-urgent appointments have been postponed. If you have an upcoming appointment or elective surgery at any MidCentral DHB facility, and you're not sure if you should attend, please call our dedicated phonenumber 0800 256 963 to check. Note: this number is operational between 8am and 5pm Monday to Friday.

If you have any symptoms of COVID-19, including cough, fever or shortness of breath, then please do not attend or visit us.

It's important that we keep our patients and staff safe and we really appreciate your help with this. If you think you may have COVID-19, please call Healthline on 0800 358 5453.

Visiting patients in the hospital

While in COVID-19 Alert Level Four, we are implementing a stricter policy regarding visitors to Palmerston North Hospital and the Horowhenua Health Centre.

To keep patients, whānau and staff safe, members of the public will be unable to visit patients at MDHB sites.

In some cases, exceptions to this policy will be made on essential and compassionate grounds - for example a parent/guardian who is supporting a child, a support person for a birthing mother or a nominated person supporting a terminal patient.

The decision will be made by an appropriate clinician and the visitor will need to undergo screening before they enter.

Shuttle services

Health Shuttle services which usually operate to support patient travel from the Manawatū District to Palmerston North Hospital are currently unable to continue due to a lack of driver capacity, as many volunteer drivers are in the vulnerable population groups. The DHB is working with Horowhenua Health Shuttle Service and St John's to sustain services. We have been working to recruit additional volunteer drivers and we are grateful to have on loan the shuttle vans from Horowhenua and St John's to continue providing this vital transport service to our communities. While establishing the service we have sustained patient travel through a paid taxi service.

We encourage anybody who still needs to travel to hospital for critical health procedures/appointments to arrange somebody within their household "bubble" to drive them where possible. This is the safest way to travel and helps us continue to break the chain and reduce unnecessary person-to-person contact. If you live alone, or have no vehicle or family that can provide transport for you, then please call Palmerston North Hospital at least a week before your appointment and ask to be put through to the Patient Travel Service, who will endeavour to help make arrangements for you.

Changes to Home and Community Support Services in response to COVID-19

The way Home and Community Support Services (HCSS) are provided in the MidCentral District has had to undergo some changes in response to COVID-19. These are the services provided by support workers in homes, and may include helping with showering and dressing, medication oversight, and domestic assistance (e.g. cleaning).

MidCentral Health DHB has asked our HSCC providers to prioritise services in order to care for our most vulnerable people. This means some services will be limited to allow support to be redirected to those who need it most. Please be assured that our providers will carefully monitor anyone who may be put at risk because of any changes. The health and wellbeing of our clients and the community are our top priorities and MidCentral DHB and providers will endeavour to do welfare checks via phone for any clients whose services may have been put on hold. If you have any questions or concerns, particularly if you feel you or someone you know will be put at risk if services change, please contact the service provider.
